

THE SFWFFLER

Pi Day (3.14...)

Hello SFWFFL Friends,

We all were expecting another Sunday of playing in the rain, but Week 2 turned out to be an absolutely gorgeous day. In typical league fashion, there were some great games and outstanding football played. The majority of teams have initiated regular practices which is apparent from the increased level of play. Teams are very evenly matched, making every single game super competitive and up for grabs.

An important reminder to look out for each other and our belongings on game day. There were two separate attempts by a non-SFWFFL-affiliated man to steal backpacks at our field last week. Please be vigilant and recognize when a threat may be present. Just like the TSA campaign says, "If you see something, say something."

Sunday's forecast is looking like a sunny 67 degrees. Bring your sunscreen and your green hat—it's St. Patrick's Day! Who's bringing the green beer?

See you on Sunday!

FEATURED TEAM OF THE WEEK:

After Burners

"We're a competitive (but not overly) group of athletes who love to win and put on a good show, but prioritize fun and friendship first. The Burners are a blend of athletes ranging in experience from basketball to soccer, field hockey to softball, and everything in between. Our diversity is our strength. Our team sparked from a handful of women who play for a charity league supporting Alzheimer's research. Our fire burned out on the SFWFFL league for a couple years as we took a hiatus the past few seasons, but we made a comeback in Fall 2018 and our flame is hotter than ever!" Team Fun Fact: WE STAY READY!
