

THE SFWFFLER

March 28, 2019

Hello SFWFFL Friends,

The league is in full swing! We're smack in the middle of the season. There were some close games last week as Honey Badgers came back from a 0-14 deficit at halftime to First String, but First String outlasted the Badgers in the end, 20-14. Moving on, it was a very close match-up between the two new teams in the league: Flaming Flags and Loose Cannons. Loose Cannons were full of creativity on offense with their many cannon arms, but came up shy of finding the end zone. Flags got on the board towards the end of the second half, with the final score being Flags 6, Cannons 0. The veteran squad, the IronTails, were a well-oiled machine, beating Call Me's 20-6. Lastly, Tacos are finding their momentum right when it counts; they overcame the Afterburners, 22-6.

We polled a group of leaguers on Monday asking, "what body part was most sore today?" Responses included: lower back, calf, quads, groin, liver, brain (from Bud Light?), but the most touching response was, "my heart, because I'm so touched by the community we're building." Awwwww, now wipe your tears, and get back to work! See you on Sunday.

Beer Bust Fundraiser Success

This past Sunday's Fundraiser at the SF Eagle was a great success as we raised close to $1,000. A special thanks goes out to our event organizer and party planner, Jaclyn Epter (Cosmos) and master chef and food contributor, Captain (Cosmos). These two put together an "out of this world" cosmic event. Another big thanks to ALL of our volunteers, and especially the dynamic brother-sister duo, Spencer and Celeste.

Special Feature on Dogs of the Week: SFWFFL Friends Keep Puppy Brothers Together

Have you seen Oakley and Oreo playing together at the field? It melts my heart the way these two interact. The two actually met when they were young pups while under foster care. Sheena and Amelia (IronTails) adopted Oakley. They wanted to find Oakley's foster brother a home in the SFWFFL family and that's when Sheena gave Jess Voss the heads up on this pup.

Jess Voss elaborates on finding Oreo: "Oreo was found by an animal shelter on the streets of Stockton and was transferred to Hopalong Animal Rescue in Oakland where they named him Floyd. He was then put into a foster care home with his Foster Mom, Tina (we call her Grandma) where she named him Shamu. There he met Oakley and the two quickly became best friends and held each other every night. When Sheena told me about this cute pup she saw at Tina's house when she was there adopting Oakley, I had to go and meet him and totally fell in love with my little dude and named him Oreo."

THE SFWFFLER

FEATURED TEAM: Honey Badgers

Honey Badgers are sweet like amber honey yet fierce like a pack of wild badgers. The team was formed in the spring of 2018 season as a group of mostly inexperienced free agents. But now Hon- eys can't get enough of each other and enjoy hanging out on and off the field, developing our foot- ball IQ, increasing our skills, astrological charts, Hibachi, and acquiring as much new Badger swag as possible! We love repping the gold and black, and just got a new logo, made by one of our own. We feel that strong womxn lift one another to the top! Camaraderie, growth, community, and eye black are kinda our thaaaangs.
